Dear parent,

If you plan to give the children a "Goody Bag" that contains a whistle or similar audible sound toy, can you please give these as they leave the party and NOT while they still have the opportunity to ride the train.

As you are no doubt aware, the railway uses the whistle to convey information between station staff, the guard and the driver, if children have whistles, they naturally want to blow them...this can obviously lead to confusion on the platform or train and could compromise the safety of the railway.

Thank you for your co-operation.
